Dear Parents/Carers

HEAD LICE

Unfortunately, there appears to be further evidence of head lice in children's hair.

Whilst we can't eliminate the complaint entirely, we can help reduce the number of incidents if all parents regularly check their children's hair.

The complaint can be very irritating for children, causing itchy scalps which they scratch at, making themselves sore. This in turn, doesn't help concentration during lessons.

I have enclosed a leaflet, which contains advice from the NHS on how to detect and treat head lice, I would be very grateful if you could all check your children's hair regularly to detect any head lice and treat accordingly.

If you have any queries, please contact the School Office.

Yours sincerely

Rhiannon Morgan

Head of School
